REGINA, August 30.

Cayley announced that himself, McKay, Mowat and Reaman composed the new executive. He promised the new estimates for to-day.

As soon as the estimates were read to-day, Speaker Ross tendered his resignation on the ground that the change in the executive and consequent change of policy rendered it necessary for him to protect the interests of his constituents as a voting member of the house. Deputy speaker Sutherland also resigned. Cayley refused to go on with the election of another speaker. The two sides now stand thirteen to thirteen in the house and a speaker elected from either side would have that side in a minority. As the new executive cannot conduct the business of the house, it will be necessary for them to resign or hold office like the old advisory council on the authority of the lieutenant-governor.

REGINA, September 1.

Cayley proposed Sutherland for speaker yesterday. The vote stood 13 to 13, Sutherland voting against himself. This vote demonstrates that the new executive cannot carry on the business of the country.

There are rumors that the House will be prorogued to-day leaving business unfinished.

LATER—The house was prorogued to-day by an extra of the Northwest Gazette. The executive is unable to control the house and the governor insists on retaining them in office. All legislation now before the house, including school bill, killed by this move.

Thirty thousand immigrants reached here this season.

The retaliation proclamation was put in force to-day.

Geo. W. Curtis, the distinguished New York editor, is dead.

Steamer Moravian, which arrived at New York from Hamburg yesterday, had 22 deaths during her passage from cholera.

Four Russian immigrants have been stricken with cholera in England and isolated at Parkhill hospital.

The first railway train just arrived at Jerusalem from Jaffa.

THERE will be no Sabbath services in the Methodist church on Sunday, September 4th.

REMEMBER the opening and dedicatory services of the New Methodist church in South Edmonton on Sunday.

THERE will be no Presbyterian service at Poplar lake next Sunday.

EDMONTON is 2,285 feet above the sea. Mean temperature in summer 55.2, winter 11.3.

THE lawn tennis court, beside the Methodist church, is marked off and ready to play on.

THERE will be a meeting of the directors of the agricultural society, on Saturday, at 2 p. m.

JOHN TOFFLEMIRE, who has been troubled for some time with sore eyes, left last week for Medicine Hat hospital.

THE Ontario Bell says: Mr. Westly, the late proprietor of the Walkerton Herald, tory organ, purposes settling in Edmonton soon.

LAST Monday G. A. Simpson drove round Clover Bar, Fort Saskatchewan and Sturgeon settlements and saw some magnificent crops.

THERE is no binding twine to be had in town just now. Merchants and machine agents having run out—this occurs nearly every year.

If the bill Mr. Mitchell introduced at the assembly be passed we wont have so many so-called sportsmen coming into town with half fledged ducks.

THE delivery of the cord wood called for in the Police supplies need not be completed till the 31st October, not the 3rd October as mentioned in the advertisement.

JAS. McDONALD returned from Winnipeg last Monday. He has secured the contract for the Hudson's Bay Company's store and will commence building immediately.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR SCHULTZ and secretary arrived here by Monday's train, drove out to St. Albert on Tuesday and left for Calgary on Wednesday. He talks of coming back in the fall.

LAST Monday was rather an unlucky day for bus drivers. The Jasper House bus came to grief before it got across the river, and the horses ran away from the station with the Queen's Hotel bus breaking the rig to pieces.

WALTER ALFORD, of Belleville, Ont., who got the contract for the government buildings, arrived last Monday and will proceed with the work as soon as possible. The buildings are to be made of brick, and are expected to be covered this fall.

THE gutters along the edge of the streets come in remarkably handy for untidy merchants and store keepers to sweep paper and other refuse into; but it would look a great deal tidier and more cleanly if they would burn such rubbish or dispose of it some other way than throwing it into the Main street.

F. N. GISBORNE, Esq., Superintendent of Dominion Government Telegraph, died last Monday night, after a long illness. Mr. Gisborne was a well-known man of science, and was the first to suggest the laying of the Atlantic cable, though it was the money raised by the late Cyrus W. Field that brought it to a successful issue. Mr. Gisborne was an Englishman by birth.

IT was arranged last Monday that the fire brigade should hold a meeting instead of practice on account of the bad weather, and that practice be held on Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. $20 was received from C. Gallagher for the effectual assistance rendered by them the night of the fire. Several members were fined for missing practice. Two members were struck off the roll for want of time to practice.

THE car bound for the eastern shows left Edmonton on Wednesday morning. It was got up very tastefully; on entering the car what struck one's eye first was the large sheaf of grass on either hand, which stood on the floor, reached the ceiling and hung over about a foot. The pea vine and vetches were very conspicuous—they were in large branches of 5 and 6 feet long. There were some beautiful samples of grains, bright clear and heavy, which were done up in very small sheaves and hung around the car in three tiers, which set the car off to perfection. It was perhaps a little early in the season to procure the best samples the country could provide, but, for all that, wheat has gone by no means a disgrace to our district. There were cabbages, cauliflower, onions and roots sent as well, and samples of coal and brick. Great praise is due to those who had the handling of the produce for the way they so successfully decorated the car.

THE following appears in the Northwestern, a Winnipeg German paper, of the 26th August: "Horse Hills—So much has been written of Edmonton of late that I think I should say something of this part. The harvest prospects are very good, barley is being cut, and as we have had no frost up to the present time, we expect also to have a good wheat harvest. Potatoes and other vegetables are excellent. It is no wonder that this district has received so much praise, for everything does well and better than well. It is wonderful what a growth reigns here. It is owing to the fruitful soil and beautiful climate, but that does not mean that any one can sit down and things will come by themselves. No, it is here, too, that work makes life sweet. Only to the diligent will anything come. I am one of those who spied out the land, and it pleases me to see that our people are getting along so well, as we were obliged to meet some heavy losses in leaving Dunmore. This district is very healthy, and I should like to see some of my countrymen move out here. We come from Pomaria and are the only ones from that district. Our settlement is ten miles from Edmonton. Free homestead land cannot be had any more close by, but plenty is to be bought for $3 or $4 an acre. I will be glad to give information to any correspondent. H. BORGWARDT."

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THAT MAN PAGET.

The following is an extract written by our old friend Paget to the Sundridge Echo of the Perry Sound district:

Edition Echo.—In reply to the several letters from the Edmonton district, I would say as I said in my previous letter that G. T. Montgomery was not worth notice; you see he says the C. P. R., do not pay any one to recommend the country, but it is a well-known fact they do pay and give presents as well, and any one that says they do, I would like to know who.

"Mr. Editor, I would like to know who Mr. A. McCulloch is trying to slur, as regards the hotel and gambling? If it is me, let him say so; I always advise fools to mind their own business. If I stayed at the hotel and played poker, he must have been there and kept watch, he knows so much about it."

"Mr. Editor, as regards Mr. J. Rye, he is a smart man and a scholar, but he has made mistakes, which if I made them would have been called a lie. We have nothing to do with Burwick; he is no reference in this case. The Edmonton BULLETIN admits that there were thirteen degrees of frost, and that the snowplow came to open the road, but Mr. Rye contradicts it. I was then trying to chop the ice off the ferry-boat to get Mr. Rye and other people's stuff across the river, but they were compelled to wait until the storm was over. Mr. Rye refers us to the difference between the counties of Huron and Middlesex and the districts of Muskoka and Parry Sound, and says it is the same with Northern and Southern Alberta. I am quite well aware of that, that Southern Alberta is a warmer and drier climate than Northern Alberta; cattle and horses can live on the prairie all winter and come through fair, while in the cold north they have to feed their stock for five months in the year, and sometimes longer. It is a frequent occurrence in Northern Alberta for a man to go to the bush in the morning for a load of wood and return in the evening with an empty sleigh on account of the terrible storms. I was told this by dozens who live there. George Davis is one of my informants, and he also says that the thermometer often registers from 65° to 70° below. I think Mr. Rye had better get better reference or go to school until he can tell bigger lies, as that one will not wash. Mr. Rye's whole trouble was to see me comfortable in a hotel, while he was lying in shock during the storm. If I tried to rent a hotel it was none of his business, and if the people of South Edmonton offered me the post office, Mr. Rye could not say I was not capable of running it, as I established and ran a much bigger and better office than South Edmonton will ever be, and it was not taken away from me until I resigned; but I think that is a very poor way to talk about a country. I am quite well aware that if I had three feet of the Beaver Hills on my farm, it would soon fill up some of the holes in the lake, as my deed would not hold it in windy weather. When you want a good country do not go to the Edmonton district, as it is in the arctic regions where all streams freeze to the bottom except they are ten feet or over deep."

"Thanking you, Mr. Editor for your valuable space, which I have used so freely, I will close my letter. Yours truly, JOHN PAGET, Sundridge, August 8th, 1892.

The Edmonton BULLETIN never did admit that the snow plow came here to clear the track of snow in this district; it was not required within 140 miles of Edmonton. Paget displays his ignorance in talking of Northern Alberta generally—there is as much difference between the Calgary and Edmonton districts as there is between night and day and they are both in Northern Alberta. It was not in the Edmonton district that men came back without wood on account of storms. Nor yet was it in the Edmonton district that the thermometer registers 65° or 70° below zero. The Beaver Hills are in this district, and as a proof that what Paget says of the district is rubbish, hundreds of settlers have gone there this summer and are perfectly satisfied. As for this being a good country, let Paget go and see the grain, grasses, etc., that left Edmonton yesterday morning for exhibition in the east; they talk for the district. Paget thinks "Mr. Rye had better go to school until he can tell bigger lies." Mr. Paget—you may now leave school, you are perfect in that line.

GOING TO ENGLAND.

According to advices received by friends in Winnipeg and England the Bishop of Moosonee, who has resided so long in the far Northwest, has decided to go home to England next summer. He has not yet sent in his resignation to the Archbishop of Canturberry, but he will, it is believed, do so shortly. Dr. Hordern has been out in the "Great Lone Land" for more than 40 years and has accomplished a great work. "He has," says a correspondent, "identified himself thoroughly with the Indians sharing in their privations and their struggles. He has completely won their affections, and he is everywhere through the vast diocese regarded as their father. He has been a bishop of the true apostolic order. A log hut or a tent, often erected with his own hands by the side of a river, has not infrequently been his "palace," and a sleigh drawn by dogs has done duty for the customary carriage. He has known what it is to cook his own food, and he says he is able to "darn a pair of stockings as well as any old woman." His evangelistic labors have been most fruitful, and he has just completed the crown of his work in the translation of the entire Bible into the Cree language. It is expected that he will be succeeded by the Rev. Jervois Arthur Newnham, who has had experience in Canada. The position is one of such complete isolation from the world that it can only be undertaken by a man whose heart is in his work."

The Toronto Mail discussing the question of the Dominion premiership says: "The question is who can succeed Abbott? Sir John Thompson is next in command. It would be entirely creditable to him did Thompson aspire to the leadership, but there can be little doubt that the minister of justice, whose judicial turn of mind is almost proverbial, has his eye upon the bench rather than upon the chief seat in the councils of the nation. Were not this the case his position as aspirant would be somewhat awkward at this particular juncture. He made a report on the Manitoba school case which pledges him at least to review the school act, although the judicial committee has pronounced favorably upon it. The Quebec bishops are demanding that he proceed with the review and provide relief, while the Protestant half of his party must feel that no such action ought to be taken. The danger in which Thompson stands is that owing to the Manitoba difficulty he may, as premier, enjoy the full confidence of one section of the conservative following."

FRIDAY.

After routine to-day Betts announced that he had been asked by the lieutenant-governor to form an executive. He would be able to make a full announcement to-morrow.

Mitchell's bill to amend the game ordinance, changing the duck season again to September 1st and making some other alterations; Wilkins' bill to prevent bulls over six months old running at large in bull districts; Cayley's bill to give extraordinary powers to the town of Calgary; Davidson's bill to legalize a bonus by-law of the municipality of Indian Head; and Cayley's bill to amend the judicature ordinance respecting the guardianship of infants, giving clerks of court certain powers of registration and regarding the examination of witnesses, were read a second time.

The report of the investigation committee was considered in committee of the whole.

Haultain objected to a passage insinuating neglect by the late executive in regard to the World's fair. After a sharp spat between Brett and Haultain, on Cayley's suggestion the report was referred back to the committee for reconsideration.

The school bill was taken up and an amendment by Mowat providing that only those rate-payers of the religious minority, who so wished, could be compelled to support a separate school was carried by a vote of 9 to 8.

Campbell moved an amendment which compels a voter to own or occupy a property for three months before voting day to qualify him to vote, which was carried.

The provision for the establishment of normal schools for the training of teachers was considered and the matter left in the hands of the council of public instruction. Progress was reported.

The election bill was considered in committee of the whole and a number of provisions agreed to. Progress was reported.

Betts moved the adjournment of the house.

REPORT ON TAR.

The following report of G. C. M. Hoffmann made to A. R. C. Selwyn, head of the geological survey department on the sample of tar sent for analysis. It is dated August 4th, 1892.
"Sir,—With reference to the sample of bituminous matter received from Mr. Frank Oliver and which is stated by him to occur on the SE $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 30, tp 56, range 25, west of the 4th meridian. The material in question was found to be made up largely of earthy matter, consisting of a quartzose sand and small fragments of rock, and a tarry bituminous matter—the whole forming, at the ordinary temperature, a stiff pasty mass. It had a faint yet marked disagreeable smell, or odour, closely resembling that observable when the so-called "sludge" of the petroleum refinery is mixed with water. Such material might be employed for some of the many purposes for which bitumen is used, and which were pointed out in connection with the results of the examination of the bituminous sand rock and mineral tar found on the Athabasca river, N. W. T., in the report of this survey for the years 1880-82, 70, 3 H."

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Yours obediently,

G. C. M. HOFFMANN.

To Dr. A. R. C. Selwyn, C. W. G. F. R. S.
The following is Selwyn's letter:

Frank Oliver, Esq.,

DEAR SIR,—By this mail I send you the result of Mr. Hoffmann's examination of the tar which accompanied your letter of the 12th of July. Without further knowledge of the precise mode of occurrence and of the nature of the adjacent rock formation, it would be impossible to express an opinion as to what it indicates in regard to the existence of deposits of petroleum in the locality. A very small amount of surface exploration would, however, enable almost anyone to arrive at some conclusion on this point. It resembles to a certain extent the tar which crops out in the Athabasca country and may have a similar origin.

Yours truly,
ALFRED R. C. SELWIN.

W. A. PERRY'S SAD DEATH.

The accident which resulted in Mr. Perry's death occurred near the foot of Kanawaskis Falls. Mr. Perry was in a canoe, which he had brought to the river bank for Mr. Kelly to enter. When the latter attempted to do so the canoe drifted out from the bank. Mr. Perry then told Mr. Kelly to walk down the bank to the next point (just how far is not stated), and he would take him on board. Mr. Kelly proceeded down to the bank, but on arriving there not the slightest trace of Mr. Perry or the boat was visible. Search was continued all day for him, but no trace was discovered. The river at this place runs through a high canyon, and is very swift, there being a number of small falls or rapids. It is supposed the canoe struck some sunken obstacles, and being a canvas affair instantly went down, and that Mr. Perry, not being able to swim a stroke, then and there met his death. The canoe was found wedged between a couple of rocks in midstream, bottom up, and within from 150 to 200 yards of the spot where Perry was last seen. A fishing basket, paddle and rod were also seen near the same spot. The canoe could not be reached yesterday, for though there was a boat brought to the spot no man could be found who would venture out in it. A number of the members of the fire brigade left for the scene to take part in the search. They took with them two large flat bottomed boats, placed at their disposal by the Eau Claire lumber Co., and a large quantity of stout rope. Dynamite was also taken which will be exploded in water in the hope of bringing the body to the surface.

The office of deputy minister of the interior was besieged on the 19th inst. by a stalwart set of visitors, being a party of 30 Vermont farmers just returned from a tour of inspection through the Canadian Northwest. They express appreciation of what they saw in the Northwest. The object of the party is to obtain a tract of land in Prince Albert district for New England colonists. They said they never saw finer land anywhere than in the Territories.

There have been reported on August 26th 202 fresh cases of cholera and 86 deaths in Hamburg. The weather is cooler and there has been rain since 1 o'clock a. m. Nevertheless in the vicinity of the harbor the disease shows no sign of abating. Forty private companies are at work disinfecting dwellings in the city and its suburbs. General indignation is felt toward the authorities because they suppressed for three weeks the fact that Asiatic cholera was spreading in the city. In Altoria the water supply is failing. It is reported that in Pinneburg and Kie several cases of Asiatic cholera have been discovered.

The apprehensions lately entertained in England in regard to danger from cholera have suddenly developed into a genuine scare. The fact that two deaths have occurred among passengers landed from Hamburg, has aroused alarm from every quarter. The newspapers are clamoring for an entire stoppage of traffic from the infected ports, especially Hamburg. At Grimsby, Hull and Lynn floating hospitals are in readiness to receive immigrants who are detained for medical examination or care.

L. H. Doll, jeweler, Calgary, and bailiff Forrest had a dispute over the former's rent recently. After high words Doll drew a gun and pointed it at Forrest and ordered him to go out. No shooting was done, but the matter will be ventilated in court, where Doll has been summoned to appear.
